Thank you for participating in this time honored process and awarding hard working OSMA members.

Medical Assistant of the Year. Each chapter may nominate a member for this award. It is presented to the medical assistant who has displayed outstanding commitment to advancing the profession through professional service.

Outstanding Educator of the Year. This award is presented to the medical assisting educator as a result of the nominee's outstanding dedication to and accomplishments in the field of medical assisting education. Such accomplishments might include: extraordinary dedication to continuing education activities at any level; exceptional support of students, contribution to the medical assisting body of knowledge (author of or major contributor to a medical assisting or health related textbook) and any other applicable information. Any chapter or individual member of OSMA may nominate any OSMA member for consideration of this award.

Betty Hill Outstanding Service Award. This award was established by OSMA in 1979, in loving memory of Betty Hill, OSMA President 1974-1975. She exemplified unselfish contribution and dedication to the goals of this Society, not only as an OSMA officer, but in all aspects of its activities. She exhibited outstanding leadership qualities in drawing forth the best performance of member participation. She always gave 100 percent of herself on behalf of the Oregon Society.
